Invitation to experts for expressions of interest to participate in the new CEDA Working Group on Adaptive Management for ecological aspects of dredging and reclamation projects (WGAM)

The Environmental Commission of CEDA is to establish a new Working Group called the CEDA Working Group on Adaptive Management for ecological aspects of dredging and reclamation projects (WGAM), and they are seeking suitable experts to join in.

For your information, the draft Terms of Reference for the Working Group can be downloaded separately from the CEDA website.

Interested CEDA members are kindly requested to notify Anna Csiti, at the CEDA Secretariat, (csiti@dredging.org), by 16 August 2021. Please provide a brief curriculum vitae along with a brief description of relevant experience.

[Please note: the costs incurred in taking part in the Working Group will have to be borne by the participating Member's company/organisation, and this should be taken into consideration when expressing interest.]

Appointment to the Working Group will be confirmed by 20 August 2021 the latest.

The newly formed Working Group will have their first meeting via MSTeams on 9 September 2021, from 13:00-16:00hrs. Confirmed WG members will receive the meeting link shortly before this date. The aim of the 1st meeting is to finalise the Draft Terms of Reference and to develop a Work Plan.

Best regards,

Anna Csiti
